FORLORN HOPE FAILS AND GARRISON EVACUATES

London, March 22 (3:37 p. m.)—The great Galician fortress of Przemysl, which the Austrians had so stoutly defended since the early days of the war, fell into the hands of the Russian besiegers this morning. The last of the improvised field fortifications were captured by the Russians and the final act of the drama began toward the close of the week when the commandant deliberately expended his reserve ammunition and sent the bulk of the garrison out on the forlorn hope of cutting its way eastward through the besiegers.

With the strong Russian line tightly drawn around the fortress, the effort apparently was hopeless from the start and six thousand Austrian prisoners fell into the hands of the Russians, while as many more fell dead or wounded. The shattered remnants of the force fled back to the fortress and they now have fallen into the hands of the Russians.

The garrison of Przemysl originally numbered 60,000 or 60,000 men, but sorties and shells must have cut a considerable number of thousands from that total.

The besieging army is understood to number about 120,000 officers and men. This force will now march on the strong Austrian fortress of Cracow, 125 miles to Przemysl, it being the announced determination of the Russian commander-in-chief to reduce the ancient Polish capital as speedily as possible.

The Exchange Telegraph company has a dispatch from its Petrograd correspondent saying that great enthusiasm was manifested in Petrograd on the receipt of the news. Crowds of people thronged the streets cheering and indulging in patriotic demonstrations.

The fortress was occupied by Russian troops immediately after its surrender.

SURRENDER OF PRZEMYSŁ EXPECTED IN VIENNA

Vienna via Amsterdam, to London, March 22, 10:13 p. m.—The following official communication has been issued:

"After four months' investment Przemysl has honorably fallen. The commander had received an order to leave the fortress to the enemy in three days, because at the moment of the attack even with the greatest

ECZEMA ITCHED ALL THE TIME

Tortured for 12 Years. Jar of Resin Outinct, with Resinol Soap Cured.

Dec. 14, 1914.—I was tortured with eczema for about 12 years. From my ankles to my knees I was covered with blisters, wider than a man's fingers, as large as a man's fingers, and they dry up and scab off something like fish scales. My legs and feet were very red and would swell up so that I could not get my shoes on. They would itch and burn all the time, and worse at night, when I would wake up scratching and bleeding.

Relieved Almost at Once

I tried every remedy recommended for eczema but without any benefit. I can say too much in praise of what Resinol Outinct and Resinol Soap gave me. It relieved almost all the pain, and less than a jar of Resinol Soap completely cured my trouble in my 8th year." (Signed) A. L. Lindsey, 214 E. Day St., Denver, Tex. economy in the food rations, the resistance could be maintained for three days only.

It proved possible to effect the timely destruction of the fortress, together with its guns and ammunition as well as the outer fortifications.

The capitulation of the fortress, with which possibly the higher command had reckoned for a long time past, has had no influence upon the general situation."

Although the above official communication announced that Przemysl capitulated "after four months' investment," data covering the fighting there seems to indicate clearly that the investment began about the middle of September.

GARRISON REDUCED TO STATE OF SEMI-FAMINE

Lemberg, Galicia, March 22 (via London, 6:10 p. m.)—Austrian prisoners from Przemysl captured shortly before the garrison surrendered, say that the fortress for a long time was in a condition of semi-famine, lacking bread and other food.

Except for the horses of the Austrian officers, no animal, they say, was visible in the town, all having been killed to feed the soldiers who recently had little to eat except canserves which led to much typhoid and other sickness. Conditions were such the prisoners add, that they almost led to a mutiny of the troops who urged that the city be surrendered.

PETROGRAD REPORTS SUCCESSES EVERYWHERE

Petrograd, March 22 (via London, 6:10 p. m.)—The following official statement from general headquarters was issued tonight:

"From Metz (East Prussia) to the Vistula and on the left bank of the Vistula there has been no change. Russian troops which advanced from Tarnowogen (Silesia) yesterday afternoon captured, capturing prisoners and engineering stores."

"At the Carpathians stubborn fighting is taking place on the roads toward Barfert, in the valleys of the Ondava and Laborec rivers, near Lukow pass and on the left bank of the upper San."

"The Russians have made successful advances. During the last 24 hours we have captured 2,500 men, fifty officers and twenty machine guns. In the direction of Nunkawitz, the Germans, in dense formation, attacked the Russian positions at Rosenthal, Orawitzki and Koszuvawa, but were everywhere repulsed, suffering heavy losses."

"In consequence of the joyful event of the surrender of the fortress of Przemysl the generalissimo, Grand Duke Nicholas, has been awarded the St. George's cross of the second degree and the commander of the army before Przemysl, General Seldwala, the St. George's cross of the third degree."

ARMS AND AMMUNITION DESTROYED BY GARRISON

Vienna, March 22 (via London, March 23, 2 a. m.)—Further details of the fall of Przemysl are made public in a late official statement issued by the Austrian war office, the text of which follows:

"When in the middle of the week, provisions were running short, General von Kusmanek (commander of the garrison) decided on a last attack. On the 19th, early in the morning, his troops sortied across the line of forts and withstood to the utmost, in a seven hours' battle, strong Russian forces."

"Numerical superiority finally forced the Austrians to retreat behind the line of forts. The evening night the Russians attacked Przemysl from several sides, but the attacks broke down in the face of the fire of the heroic defenders."

"After the sortie of the 19th, it was found that the provisions could last only three days and the commander received an order to surrender the fortress after these three days and after all the war material had been destroyed. According to reports from an airman from the fortress, the commander did in fact succeed in destroying the forts, including gunnery and fortifications."

"Not much less praise is due to the sacrificing perseverance and last light of the garrison than to their bravery during the storming of the fortress and the fighting on previous occasions. Thus recognition the enemy it will not refuse to heroes of Przemysl."

"The fall of the fortress with which the higher command reckoned for a long time, has no influence on the position in general."

"The battle in the Carpathians from Uzok pass to the ridge of Konieczna is progressing."

The Exchange Telegraph company has a dispatch from its Petrograd correspondent saying that great enthusiasm was manifested in Petrograd on the receipt of the news. Crowds of people thronged the streets cheering and indulging in patriotic demonstrations.

DECISIVE BATTLE BETWEEN VILLA AND CARRANZA FORCES IMPENDS

MAGISTRATE DISMISSES ROCK ISLAND OFFICIALS

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE
New York, March 22—John J. Quinal, vice president of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway company, and Robert L. Forbes, its transfer agent, were discharged when they appeared before a police magistrate today on summonses charging that they refused to permit stockholders to inspect the company's stock transfer books. The defendants were summoned on January 22 upon complaint of Warren C. Crane, a member of the so-called Amster committee, representing the minority stockholders.

The magistrate declared that in his opinion it did not constitute a violation of the law for an officer of a corporation in charge of stock books within this state to refuse to allow stockholders to see the share holders to inspect the stock transfer books. The demands of the minority stockholders were prompted by a desire to secure proxies to vote at the coming annual meeting in Chicago.
